Behaviour Expectations

- First steps are always working with children to embrace the reward aspects and make the right choices.
- Steps for when right choices are not made.
- Working in partnership with home ensures the best outcomes for the children.
- Positive behaviour management based upon genuine, positive relationships with the children.

Behaviour Policy

What happens if I make the right choices?

- An adult will give me praise
- I will make progress with my learning
- I might get a 'make a difference star' / House Point
- I might win 'Puff-Puff' the starfish
- I might get a head teacher's certificate
- I will be proud of myself

What happens if I don't make the right choices?

- An adult will talk to me and give me the chance to change how I am behaving
- I will need to meet at break or lunch time to reflect on, and talk about, my behaviour
- I may need to complete a reflection sheet
- I will need to take missed learning home to complete and return the next day
- I may need to go to work club on Fridays to complete any missed learning
- My parents may be contacted
- For deliberate physical contact I will have an internal or external exclusion

Assessment

An essential and integral part of the teaching and learning process

Formative Assessment

- continuous, ongoing assessment during classroom teaching and marking of daily learning

Summative Assessment

- assessment of individual learning – ‘tests’ (SATS). Beginning, middle and end of each year in maths and EnNFER / glish.
- Part of normal learning journey and classroom practice. A way for children and adults to find out next steps.

Specific Learning Assessments

- used to assess and plan for how to meet specific learning needs.

SATS week

- ❖ Week beginning 13th May
- ❖ GPS (Grammar, punctuation, spelling)
- ❖ Reading
- ❖ Maths (Arithmetic and Reasoning x 2)

We will be holding a meeting prior to SATS week during the Spring term.

Homework

- Reading journals – to record reading 5x each week.
- Spellings – individual ‘focus 5’ in communication book
- Times tables – fortnightly setting / test. Daily practice (TTRS)
- Home learning research or project work

Spelling

We are now using Jane Considine's The Spelling Book to teach spelling at Sun Hill. The system is built on strong phonic foundations and includes a range of deep exploratory investigations, alongside short-burst 'chunked' revision activities.

The Spelling Book is not a scheme, it's a way of teaching spelling that relies on teachers to bring the 'wonder of words' to life.

The Spelling Book aims to:

- 1) provide structure and support to teachers whilst allowing enough room for creativity, ensuring that all National Curriculum fundamentals are covered.
- 2) exceed all expectations around making the teaching of spelling effective, and 'stick-able', for children.
- 3) ensure that all concepts, activities and tasks taught increase 'stickability' and retention of vocabulary.

Spelling

In addition to being exposed to and exploring key vocabulary to enable children to cover the curriculum, the children will also have a Focus Five. The children will write their Focus Five in their reading records, so you can see what they're focusing on.

These will be five words that your child finds tricky. They will identify the tricky part and aim to spell the word correctly within their writing at school. Once achieved, they change it for another tricky spelling.

The children will not be tested on their Focus Five, but encouraged to use the words correctly within their writing.

Differentiate approach focusing on what your child needs at that point.

Year 6

Crash! Crash! Crash! The wind screeched as it ^{swirled} around the abandoned ferris wheels. The same distorted carnival music could be heard from the mould-covered scarlet tents. Rusting with age the dogs stood in a line - like soldiers ^{paying} to attention. Puckey smothered the ripped banners and suffered ^{the} suffocation of the stalls. The rose-burnin stench of rotting apples and damp bushes covered the Funfair like a blanket. Grossiti was all over ^{the} the air giving the funfair an extra ^{stand} attention.

The little girl, Raven, started shiver at the creaking old gates as the sound of ^{her} ^{silent} medicinal laughter filled her head. The air
